What fuels creativity and innovation?
Where does the inspiration for great ideas come from?
How do you turn your idea into reality?

These are just some of the themes that are explored at inov8 SRJC, a series of TED-inspired talks at the North Bay’s educational hub, Santa Rosa Junior College. Three trailblazing innovators whose companies are re-inventing the food business will speak on the passion and creative spirit that drives their ideas and ventures. They’re groundbreaking, sustainable, socially responsible, and local.
